On the 4th inst. he wrote a letter to his daughter, to the effect that he could no longer battle the troubles of life, and had determined to seek death as a relief. Some bours after taking the poison he stated what he had done, and the attendance of a physician was procured, but without permanent effect. The letter above referred to was found in his room after his decease. The Coroner's Jary rendered a verdict of "Suicide." The deceased resided at No.

SKATING AT THE CENTRAL PARK.-Experience having suggested some improvements in the skating rules, adopted and published a few weeks since, the following directions to skaters on the Central Park, were yesterday posted about the pond. It will be observed that the "ball up" will hereafter indicate, not that skating is permitted merely, but that the ice is in tolerable condition for skating. When, therefore, the ball is seen, as when "up" it may be from almost any elevated position in the city, it will be understood that those who wish to skate will find, if they go to the pond, that the ice is in condition to repay them for the journey thicher. A white pennant over the pond will give assurance that the ice is sound, if not glib. Those who remain on the pend after the white penant falls,

THE SIXTH-AVENUE RAILROAD AND THE SKATING

POND.
To the Editor of The N. Y. Tribune.

Siz: The Sixth-avenue Railroad Company are conatandly in the habit of displaying conspicuously on their cars the owd, "Ball up; good skating at the Central Park." In company with several others I made a visit to the Park to see the skating. a few days since, relying on the information conveyed on the card. We were told at the Park that the ball had not been up at all that day, and the Railroad Company kacre it, too. Now, Sir, I that cay, and the Bark Commissioners the propriety of displaying suggest to the Bark Commissioners the propriety of displaying from the fing-staffs of the different hotels a signal when there is good chating, and thereby save being swindled out of time and anoney. I exmeetly hope, Mr. Ection, that public attention may sontinue to be directed to this point until a reform shall be effected, and they poer creetures, unable to piesd for themselves, find in yoursel and H. advocates that will not be eiteneed or satisfied until this dispressful course of treatment is entirely abandoned.

There is such an institutional London, which was established 300 years and when I ondon was considerably less than New-York is at the present time. Here is a fine opportunity for the milisathropia. Such an institution would take many pitiable and deserving objects from our streets, and provide them a comfortable home.

ATTEMPT AT GRAND LARCENY.—A man haved Geo. Rebertsen was arrested on Friday, charged with an attempt at grand larceny and assoult. It appears that he entered the dry goods store of Ann s. HOME FOR THE AGED, AND ORPHAN HOUSE .- Yesterday the Home for the Aged, and Orphau House, situated on Albany avenue, near Fulton avenue, Brooklyn, was formally opened in the presence of about a hundred ladies, and some of the clergy. The institution belongs to the Episcopal Church, and is designed to provide for aged women in their declining years, as well as the nurture of orphan children of both sexes, and their preparation for the duties of maturer years. In pursuance of this object the building has been arranged to accommodate 50 old persons and 50 childen. It contains 21 bedrooms for old people, and 2 dormitories for the children-one for the boys, and one for the girls. A spacious and finely furnished parlor is set apart for the meetings of the Committee. Apartments are also provided for the accommodation of the chaplain. There is a neatly furnished school-room and library for the children. The Chapel is a neat little room, which seats about 150 persons. The ornamentation is, like the exterior of the building, in the Gothic style. Over the communion table are three windows of stained glass. The center window represents Christ as the good shepherd, above him is a dove. over which are the letters I. H. S. To the left is a picture of Christ raising Jairus's daughter, surmounted by a powegrauste and grapes, with the Greek letter "Omega" at the top. On the right window is a presentation of Christ in the attitude of blessing little children, over which is the crown with seven stars and points, and on the top the letter 'Alpha." Bishop Potter read the Ante Communica service, and addresse the congregation. He congratulated the ladies, who had succeeded in rearing that building, on their success so far. He was glad to see on that wholesome season of Epiphary many of the same faces which a year ago had guthered together, amid the wintry elements, to lay the corner stone of the building. He congratulated them in having secured for chaplain the Rev. Dr. Clapp, who would prove available for the duties of the office; he would be a ather to the children, and to the aged a friend. He hoped that faithful friends would be given to the instiution, and that good people would be found who, before their souls and bodies were separated, would eave of their gold and silver to benefit that just tution. He boped, as God had blessed them in their beginning,

A collection was then taken, and the Communion ser vice was adm vistered by Bishop Potter. In the afternoon, the Rev. Dr. Vinton delivered an address upon the general subject of Christian duty in relation to benevolent institutions. The Home is so constructed that any addition to it will in no way detract from the present rather hand-ome appearance of the building. When the ground shall have been arranged, the institution will look as pleasant as i s location is healthy.

INSOLVENT CASE.

In re. The Application of Joel W. Foote to be discharged as an insolvent debtor.

This was an application for a discharge as an insolvent. The petition showed as indebtedness of about $144,000, of which amount $36,000 consisted of debts contracted while the petitioner was member of the firm of Foote, Cole & Co. The balance of the indebtedness $100,000, consisted of notes made by the petitioner in January and Fobruary, 1338, upon the purchase of stocks of variess coal companies, which as the opposing craditors alleged, were worthless. It appeared by the petition that air persons only signed the petition for the involvent's discharge, and that they i presented the $100,000 of alleged debt.

The opposing craditors claimed that the petitioning creditors represented bogus debts; that the petitioner had designedly, within a short time after the failure of Foote, Cole & Co., be affect that large indebtedness for the purpose of applying for a discharge.

Upon the trial of the case, it appeared by the cyldence that ited this large indebtedness for the purpose of applying for a licelarge.

Upon the trial of the case, it appeared by the evidence that Foot made an assignment preferring creditors on the 2d of Norember, 1857, being less than two years prior to the pending application for a discharge.

Upon this evidence, the connsel for the opposing creditors neved that the proceedings be classissed, as the statute provided that the case of an assignment giving preference, the insolvent could not apply for a clasharge before two years had elapsed. The motion was granted, and the proceeding disminant. For innolvent, B. F. Sawyer; for creditors, E. W. Dodgo.

For intelvent, B. F. Sawyer; for creditors, E. W. Dodge.

The improved feeling in the Stock market noticed resterday was fully sustained to day, and met with but ttle resistance from the bears, who have undoubtedly covered within a day or two a considerable amount of their shorts. The lew point togehed by many stocks has also brought in a considerable amount of orders from outside operators, who look for some reaction after so long a continuance of a downward market. The measurable relief in the Money market, and the prospect of a further let-up, has also had a favorable influence, by enabling holders of stocks, as well as new buyers, to carry cash stock with considerably less difficulty than earlier in the week. It will be noticed that the amount of cash Central thrown on the market to-day was comparatively moderate. The orders for buyers' options were quite large, and many of them could not be executed; while the disposition to put out sellers' options was much less prominent than during the week past. The movement in Central wa very strong, with little or no reaction. I opened at 73%, and advanced steadily, with an animated market to 73%, and after the regular session to 74. In the afternoon it touched 74%, closing, offered, at that. After Galena was reached the market lost some of its elasticity, in consequence of the heaviness of this stock under the disappointment in regard to the traffic of the fourth week of December, but the market afterward recovered from the check. Galena opened at 63, and fell off to 622. Some doubt appears now to be entertained of a 4 per cent dividend in February. Rock Island was in large demand, especially on buyers' options, and advanced to 62 from 61 j, and afterward, in closing transactions, to 623. After the Second Board, 623 was bid. Illinois Central was stronger, under more favorable advices from London, and advanced to 581 bid, with good demand. The transactions in Western shares were not important, excepting in Galena and Rock Island. Pacific Mail continues steady, but Panana sympathized in the upward movement, and sold as high as 1271. At the Second Board there was a fair amount of business transacted, with a fur-ther improvement. Hudson River was 421. Galena recovered a portion of the decline of the morning, selling at 631, and Rock Island was 621. Toledo was firm at 20. The appearance of the market was that the lowest points had been touched for the present, and a moderate reaction commenced. In the Bond market there was very little done, and the business was well distributed. Prices were without much change, but the Erie issues were heavy. The closing prices were: Virginia 6s, 901 904. The large expenditures for these purposes in 1858 rendered it unnecessary in 1859 to make further serious expenditures. The $400,000 revenue bonds mentioned in the table are redeemable early in 1861. The bonds forfeited, $1,150,-000 to the North Missouri, and $99,000 to the Iron Mountain Road, may be appropriated to other roads if it is the pleasure of the Legislature. The interest on the permanent State debt is $1,332,180. With the increase of the business of the roads, and reasonably good management, it is presumed that $600,000 of the nterest will be met by them, thus making the charge on the State $732,180, or for the two years, $1,464,360. The receipts into the State Treasury for the two fiscal years ending in 1858 were $1,361,348. The estimate for the two years ending 1860, including the balance in band, and $848,000 proceeds of the mill tax is $2,-853,042, from which are to be deducted $1,087,700 for ordinary expenditures and school purposes. The bonded debt of the City and County of St. Louis at the latest report was:

Gov. Chase remarks:

MP rovisions of the new Constitution probibited the increase and required the gradual extinction of the debt. An not of the last General Assembly was intended to secure that result. It authorizes, whenever any portion of the debt shall become payed, the issuing of new bonds to an amount sufficient to disc harge it. These new bonds are to be made payable in such installments that the annual levy required by the Constitution will supply the means for their payment in full at maturity; and that the act requires their payment accordingly without renewal and without beloy.

It is a very serious, and, in my judgment, an insuperable objection, unless the right of taxation by reserved on the face of the bonds whon issued. Whether bonds bearing such reservation will find takers, can only be determined by trial. That they will not it mere than probable; and if they will not, it is certain that the taxation of State bonds is alike impolitic and unjust. I recommend, therefore, such legislation as will give the sea rested discretion to the Commissioners, fix beyond liability a saferation the rate of interest and secure the control, reduction and finel payment of the debt at the earliest time, and is the nost economical mode of
